Directions:

- On your approach to Galway from Dublin you will have a number of roundabouts to pass through. It is best to follow the signposts for Galway West/Clifden (i.e. N59)
- You will find yourself driving over a four lane bridge called the Quincentennial Bridge
- At the end of the bridge you will approach a set of traffic lights (you will notice a petrol station on your left hand side at the lights)
- Turn left at these lights.
- At the next set of traffic lights turn left also – these lights are located outside the AIB Bank. You are now in NUI Galway grounds (Distillery Road Entrance)
- Take the first left on Distillery Road and continue until you pass under the Quincentennial Bridge
- The road will veer left immediately after passing under the bridge. Research and Innovation Centre is the building facing you (see below) on the left
- There are Pay & Display Parking areas in front of the building (blue-lined area)
- When you enter the building, turn right through the double doors. The CFRC reception office Room 116 is the first door on your left
